The EZ Stair System Offers Many Beneficial Attributes...

EZ Stairs is an adjustable, heavy duty steel stair bracket system, which allows you to make automatic adjustments to form any rise, or run you require. You only need two stringers for deck stairs up to 7' in width. No center stringers are needed at all, because riser acts as a load-bearing joist, giving you strong stairs. Most of the saw cuts are eliminated, and require only three to four cuts per stringer. The brackets also provide "code compliant" rail post support. According to their accredited testing, the brackets are used to provide rail post support for any type of wood stair, which meets the code requirement for 200 lb. lateral load at 42". This has never been achieved on any wood stairs system.

Recent testing conducted by Testing Engineers Inc., San Leandro, CA, a well known national testing lab, has shown that EZ Stairs adjustable stair brackets well exceed IBC lateral load specified code requirements with minimal deflection. The IBC lateral load rail support requirements are 200 lbs. per 36" (residential), 42" (commercial), and 500 lbs. (ultimate) - EZ Stairs will support 500 lbs.!
